

Generosity Delivers Wintertime Warmth

2/1/2016

Associates around the world volunteer their time and energy, particularly during the winter holidays, to fundraise for their favorite charities. With help from the Beckman Coulter Foundation, teams in Seoul, Korea, and Suzhou and Shanghai, China, proudly completed goodwill events that made a difference in the lives of children and their families in their respective communities.

"Love Has No Boundaries" in Suzhou

The Bo'AI Rehabilitation Institute in Suzhou, China, is a non-state, non-profit organization providing medical care, education, accommodations and rehabilitative treatment for children with physical, mental and special educational needs. The organization believes that each child is entitled to education without exception, and aids families that can't afford the expense of caring for special needs children.

On a chilly afternoon of January 16, more than 20 employees from Beckman Coulter Suzhou, and their family members, held a warm and cheerful New Year party with Bo'AI teachers and pupils. Under the leadership of Tony Gao, the team toured the school and celebrated with refreshments and entertainment for the children. The event included a piano solo, singing, games and much chatter and laughter. The highlight of the arts and crafts activities was a colorful handmade clay monkey for the New Year.

It was a worthwhile day for everyone and time with the children passed quickly. Smiles on the children's faces were the best rewards for the volunteers. Bo'AI School's motto, "Love Has No Boundaries", resonated with Suzhou associates and they now look forward to continuing their support on a regular basis throughout 2016.

Suzhou Bo'AI Rehabilitation Institute

1°C Gift Boxes

As part of their corporate social responsibility activities, associates of Beckman Coulter Korea (BCK) spent much of December volunteering their time to create "1°C gift boxes of Mr. Beckman" for donation to children in the community suffering from Leukemia. "Mr. Beckman" was the endearing name of a do-it-yourself rabbit doll - handmade by associates. The tag "1°C gift boxes" reflected the project's philosophy: "Warming the temperature of society by 1°C through the loving care".

The project spanned 22 days and every BCK associate dedicated time to create Mr. Beckman gift boxes. In total, more than 80 boxes were donated.

The team's participation in this charitable cause provided support, strength and encouragement to the Leukemia patients and their families. By helping others, associates spread a feeling of goodwill and great compassion throughout the BCK organization.

Min-Kyung Kim, BCK's HR Manager, shared, "The process of creating the DIY dolls was significantly difficult but it was a very meaningful time and process." BCK General Manager, Hayden Lee added, "1°C gift boxes of Mr. Beckman activity was a charity activity for kids whose lives have been altered by an unfortunate disease. I believe that it was a really great chance for us to share what we have with them and to make them feel that they are not alone in fighting against a disease. As promised, BCK will continue to volunteer in more activities moving forward to give back to society, making our community healthier in the long term."

Special thanks to the Beckman Coulter Foundation, Tiffany Jiang and the BCK team for making this project a big success!

Holiday Giving in Shanghai

Team China proudly completed their first charity event in Shanghai, a "Holiday Toy and Book Run", partnering with the local children's hospital in December. Associates from the Shanghai site contributed toys, books and money in support of the event. The Shanghai Staff Welfare Committee provided additional donations, and associates graciously volunteered their time to pack and decorate gifts and cards.

On January 22, a representative group of 15 associates delivered dozens of gifts, based on wish lists from hospitalized children suffering from kidney or blood ailments. The team was greeted by anxiously awaiting children in the hospital hallway. There is nothing more inspirational than the excitement of children and making dreams come true.

The team considers the event a great showcase of our company's vision and appreciates the support and contributions by their associates. Special thanks to Christine Zhang, Cathy Lei and Johnny Wang for their leadership and smooth event execution. More to come in 2016!