Springtime Gifts to Young Hospital Patients

An extended stay at a hospital can seem overwhelming for a child any time of the year. Simple gifts and gestures from the surrounding community can bring much needed comfort to hospitalized children.

During the annual Bunny Mania campaigns in March and April, Beckman Coulter collaborated with local children's hospitals to collect and deliver a variety of stuffed animals, toys and supplies to the young patients. We're proud to share photos from some of our U.S. sites.

Thanks to everyone for their generous community support!
